

Who we are

Growth Public Schools (GPS) is a new network of charter schools launching its first school in Sacramento, CA in the fall of 2017. We are searching for exceptional talent. This is a great opportunity to join a start up organization dedicated to transforming public education for its students!

Mission, Vision & Values

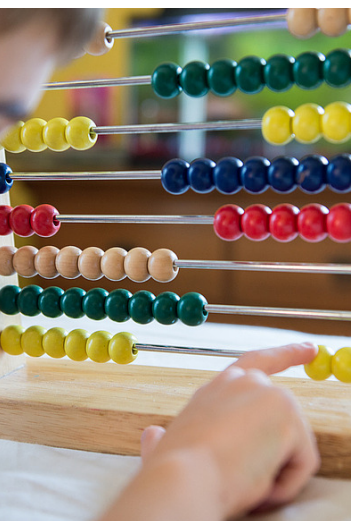

The mission of GPS is to to prepare a diverse student body to be the next generation of creative problem solvers, innovators, and leaders. We have a vision to transform public education by building and running the most innovative school in the country, where all students will be creative and innovative learners set up with the critical skills for a successful future. We live and breathe these values in all that we do. We believe that:

- ★ Everyone should strive for excellence
- ★ Every child has inherent curiosity and unique gifts
- ★ Learning should be authentic, creative, open-minded, and rigorous
- ★ Social emotional learning, character education and mindset are critical
- ★ Diversity is key
- ★ Families and communities are strong partners
- ★ An innovative, fun, and joyous culture leads to success for students

Who you are

We are actively seeking an exceptional Director of Operations and Innovation to partner with the CEO to build a world-class, high performing organization. An ability to think through complex problems is key, but more critical is the belief in our mission, vision, and values, and a commitment to education reform for all kids in America. The successful candidate will have a business background and/or love of all things operations. This person should have an entrepreneurial and innovative approach to life and work, as they will build the long term operational infrastructure of the organization. In addition, they should have an adaptive and agile personality to thrive in a start-up environment where things are changing rapidly. As the organization grows from 1 to 5 schools over the next decade, this team member will lead the organization to operational excellence. Are you interested in solving difficult problems like how to build schools that prepare our students for the workplaces of tomorrow? Or, how to build systems and structures to enable teachers to personalize learning for all kids? These are the types of questions we will tackle together. We are a people-centered organization that questions the status quo and sets a path for the best organizations of the future. This will be an adventurous ride. We are looking for someone to take the leap with us and change the world one school and community at a time.

Why you should apply:

GPS will change the future of schools. We have a bold and audacious vision for the future of schools and learning. It will be an exciting ride that will change your life forever. Why wouldn't you apply?

How you apply:

Send your cover letter and resume to drichards@growthps.org. If you are the right fit, we will reach out to you to discuss the details of the position in more depth.
